BRILLIANT PARADE
TO HONOR PILGRIMSPresident to Review Pageant From White House East Terrace Tonight.

Route of Parade

Route—On north side of Pennsylvania avenue from Peace Monument, passing in back of the Treasury building, to the Executive avenue, north to Vermont avenue and K street.
The head of the parade will leave Peace Monument at 8 o'clock.The parade on Pennsylvania avenue tonight in commemoration of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth 366 years ago is expected to be the most brilliant night spectacle ever staged in Washington.
The National Capital has seen a number of marching pageants during and since the war, but practically all of them were staged in daytime.
While the parade tonight will be shorter than the war demonstrations, it probably will have more features in comparison to its length than the war pageants.Elaborate floats, some of them lighted by electricity; many bands of music, marching units of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps and marchers in Pilgrim costumes will be so distributed in the line of march as to maintain interest from start to finish.Leut. Col. Harry N. Coates of the 3d Cavalry will ride at the head of the parade as grand marshal, with officers of the High School Cadet Corps acting as aides.President Wilson will view the pa-

White House as it passes along East Executive avenue.Formation of Parade.

the landing of the Pilgrims and the reception in honor of the Commissioners of the District and the superintertainment, according to the views enthusiastically expressed.The affair was conducted under the supervision of the community center department of the public schools of the city. The landing of the Pilgrims ed of three plays, "May Day," by Con-Hemans and offered by Prof. Edward C. Townsend, and the presentation of allegorical tableaux, first, "A Vision of Liberty," second, The Star Spangled Banner, the latter including a scene by Rachel Emerson. The music was

BANS LIQUOR SMUGGLING.

Italian Marine Warned Against Taking Drink to U. S.ROME, November 23.—Any pretext for smuggling alcoholic drinks into America or allowing the sailing of "clandestine emigrants" to that country should be discountenanced, declared an appeal to the Italian merchant marine issued today by Deputy Giuseppe, president of the Seamen's Federation. He asserted the United States government has adopted most severe measures, including the black list, against those guilty of such offenses, and declared that ships breaking the American laws may not be allowed to land in that country.

JUGOSLAV MINISTER QUILTS.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, November 23.—Anko Trumbich resigned the Vesitch, former Yugoslav minister to France.

PLANS SUBWAY GARAGE.

Baltimore May Adopt Scheme to Relieve Congestion.BALTIMORE, November 24 (Special).
—Subway garages under the big office buildings of Baltimore may be one method adopted to solve the parking question. A suggestion of this kind, accompanied by a drawing showing how the plan could be put into operation, has been submitted to Police Commissioner Gailther by a Baltimorean.The plan as outlined to the commissioner calls for a space 125 feet square beneath a large office building. Entrance and exit from the subway garages would be by chute or elevator.
The garage itself would be of cylindri-cal shape and would contain three sets of single garages. These would revolve on tracks on the order of a railway turntable. When a car would come into the garage it would be sent into one of the next unit and be ready for the next car. In this way, the designer claims, something like 125 cars could be parked under each office building.Another Royal Suggestion
